

A series of horizontal black lines of varying thicknesses, creating a striped pattern. The lines are arranged in a sequence that starts with thin lines, followed by a thicker line, then more thin lines, and ends with a very thick, solid black bar. This pattern is repeated across the entire height of the image.